Bengal Act XVII of 1945.

THE BENGAL DESTITUTE PERSONS (REPATRIATION AND RELIEF) EXTENDING ACT, 1945.

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 3rd January, 1946.]

An Act to extend the operation of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend the operation of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945; Ben. Act XIII of 1945.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

The Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Extending Act, 1945.

(Sections 1, 2.)

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Extending Act, 1945.

Amendment of section 1 of Bengal Act XIII of 1945.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 1 of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945, for the word and figures "January, 1946" the word and figures "December, 1947" shall be substituted.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1592L.—28th December, 1945.—The following Statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Extending Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The object of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Extending Act, 1945, is to extend the life of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945, which would otherwise expire on the 31st January, 1946. It is apprehended that by that date the economic situation will not have improved to a degree which would render the provisions of the Act superfluous. It is accordingly considered desirable to extend the life of the Act, and the present Act is designed to effect such an extension up till the end of December, 1947. The Bengal Legislative Assembly has been dissolved, and the ensuing General Election will prevent the Provincial Legislature from meeting in session before the date on which the normal life of the Act will terminate.

By order of the Governor,

E. B. H. BAKER,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 17th December 1945.

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal for 1945-46.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 21·1 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission of the first forecast of the crop, the weather conditions have been quite favourable. Adequate showers in October have had good effect on the crop everywhere, specially on that of the drought affected areas of south-west Bengal. The crop of some areas has been, to some extent, damaged due to excessive rainfall but this has been amply compensated for by the increased production in other areas.

Acreage.—The total area under winter rice this year is estimated to be 19,605,300 acres as against 20,798,300 acres (revised) of last year, as found by the plot-to-plot crop survey conducted by the Development Commissioner, Bengal, in 1944-45, and against 18,538,900 acres shown in the corresponding forecast of last year. The decrease in area by about 8 per cent. as compared with the last year's actual is mainly due to unfavourable weather conditions at the time of sowing and transplantation.

Outturn.—The outturn for the province is estimated to be 81 per cent. of the normal this year as against 84 and 80 per cent. of the normal reported in the corresponding and the final forecasts respectively of last year.

Total yield.—Accepting 81 per cent. as the provincial outturn the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of the normal yield of 12·4 maunds of clean rice (husked) per acre, works out to 7,233,600 tons this year as against 7,579,100 tons (revised) and 7,093,500 tons reported in the final and the corresponding forecasts respectively of last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

M. ABED, Personal Assistant, for Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 22nd December 1945.

Forecast of the Winter Til (Sesamum) Crop of Bengal for 1945-46.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under "Til" in Bengal has represented some 3·6 per cent. of the area under "Til" in India.)

Description.—There are two varieties of the crop, viz., "Summer Til" and "Winter Til". The former is generally sown in February to March and is harvested in May to June. The latter variety is generally sown in August to October and is harvested in November to January.

Character of the season.—The weather and its effect on the cultivation and growth of the crop have been on the whole favourable. There has been slight damage at a few places due to heavy rains in October.

Acreage.—The total area sown with this crop is estimated at 55,200 acres this year as against 52,500 acres of last year. The increase is due to high price of oilseeds.

Outturn.—The outturn for the province is estimated to be 88 per cent. of the normal this year, as against 84 per cent. of the normal last year.

Total yield.—Taking 7 maunds as the normal yield of the crop per acre, the gross yield for the province is estimated at 12,500 tons this year, as against 11,300 tons of last year.

N. M. KHAN,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

2. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

(a) "section" means a section of the Act; and

(b) "the Act" means the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

3. (1) If the local authority does not proceed to recover as a public demand any amount payable by an owner or owners under sub-section (3) of section 6, or if after so proceeding the local authority fails to find property belonging to such owner or owners by the sale of which the amount due can be fully recovered, the local authority may cause to be issued a notification in Form A attached to these rules.

(2) Such notification shall be published by beat of drum in the slum area concerned, and a copy thereof shall be posted in some conspicuous place in that area. A copy thereof shall also be posted in some conspicuous place in the office of the local authority, and a further copy thereof shall be sent by registered post to the owner or each of the owners, as the case may be, at his last known residence, address or place of business.

4. (1) After the publication of a notification in Form A, the local authority shall, until the amount due from the owner or owners has been satisfied, be entitled to recover all rents and arrears of rent then due and all rents thereafter becoming due from any tenant of such owner or owners, as the case may be, of the land or immovable property which is the subject matter of such notification.

(2) Any payment of rent made by any such tenant in respect of any such land or immovable property after the publication of such notification and until further order from such local authority, other than a payment made to the local authority concerned or to a person authorised by it to recover such payment, shall be null and void.

(3) If the local authority fails to recover amicably any rent or arrear of rent referred to in sub-rule (1), it may recover such rent or arrear of rent by any process of law for the time being in force by which the owner or owners might effect such recovery.

5. The local authority shall grant a receipt for every sum paid to it or recovered by it as rent or arrears of rent, and such receipt shall be granted to the tenant by whom such rent or arrear of rent is paid or from whom it is recovered, and shall to the extent of such sum constitute a valid discharge in respect of rent due from such tenant.

6. When the amount payble by the owner or owners under sub-section (3) of section 6 has been satisfied, the notification issued under rule 3, if any, shall be revoked by the authority which issued it.

7. The local authority shall publish, in some conspicuous place in its office and in some conspicuous place in the slum area concerned, a list of the owners (if any) entitled to a refund under sub-section (8) of section 6 or sub-section (3) of section 7, stating in such list the amount due for refund to each such owner; and shall also send by registered post to the last known residence, address or place of business of each such owner a notice stating the amount of the refund due to him.

8. An owner entitled to a refund may, within one year from the date on which the list is published in the office of the local authority or in the slum area, whichever is later, apply in writing to the local authority for such refund.

9. No application for refund received after the period specified in rule 8 shall be entertained unless the local authority is satisfied that there are sufficient reasons for the failure of the applicant to apply within that period; and no application for refund shall be entertained after the expiry of twelve years from the date of the completion of the scheme concerned. For the purposes of this Rule, a certificate signed by the Chairman or the Chief Executive Officer of the local authority and stating that the scheme was completed on a specified date shall be conclusive proof of such completion and of the date thereof.

10. When an application is received under rule 8 or entertained under rule 9, the local authority shall refund to the owner concerned the amount which he is entitled to receive as a refund.

11. Service of notice issued under sub-section (1) of section 10 shall be made by delivering or tendering a copy thereof sealed with the seal of the local authority and signed by the Chairman or Chief Executive Officer of the local authority or such officer under him as he authorises in this behalf.

12. Wherever it is practicable the service of the notice shall be made on the occupier in person, unless he has an agent authorised to accept service on his behalf, in which case service on such agent shall be sufficient.

13. Where the occupier cannot be found and has no such agent authorised to accept service of the notice on his behalf, the service may be made on any adult male member of the family of the occupier who is residing with him.

Explanation.—A servant is not a member of the family within the meaning of this rule.

14. Where the serving officer delivers or tenders a copy of the notice to the occupier personally or to an agent or other person on his behalf, he shall require the signature of the person to whom the copy is so delivered or tendered to be affixed to an acknowledgment of the service endorsed on the original notice.

15. Where the occupier or his agent or such other person as aforesaid refuses to sign the acknowledgment, or where the serving officer after using all due and reasonable diligence cannot find the occupier and there is no agent authorised to accept service of the notice on his behalf nor any other person on whom service can be made, the serving officer shall affix a copy of the notice on the outer door or some other conspicuous part of the hut or building concerned and shall then return the original to the Chairman or the Chief Executive Officer, as the case may be, by whom it was issued with a report endorsed thereon or annexed thereto stating that he has so affixed the copy, the circumstances under which he did so and the name and address of the person (if any) by whom the hut or building was identified and in whose presence the copy was affixed.

16. The serving officer shall, in all cases in which the notice has been served under Rule 14, endorse or annex or cause to be endorsed or annexed on or to the original notice, a return stating the time when and the manner in which the notice was served and the name and address of the person (if any) identifying the person served and witnessing the delivery or tender of the notice.

17. Where a notice is served under rule 15 the Chairman or the Chief Executive Officer, as the case may be, or any officer under him authorised on this behalf shall examine the serving officer and may make such further inquiry in the matter as he thinks fit, and shall either satisfy himself that the notice has been duly served or order such service as he thinks fit.

18. Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained the notice may, if the Chairman or Chief Executive Officer, as the case may be, so directs, be sent to the occupier by registered post at his last known residence, address or place of business.

19. (a) The officer authorised by the Provincial Government under sub-section (1) of section 11 shall cause public notice to be given at convenient places in the slum area requiring all persons entitled to compensation under that sub-section to appear personally or by agent before him at a time and place therein mentioned (such time not being earlier than fifteen days after the date of the publication of the notice) and to state the nature of their respective interests and the amount and particular of their claims to compensation for such interests. A copy of the notice shall also be delivered or left at the municipal office in the municipality within which the slum area is situated.

(b) The officer shall also cause notice to be served to the same effect on all persons known or believed to be interested and entitled to compensation under section 11. Notice to the interested persons shall be served by registered post at their last known residences, addresses or places of business.

(c) The officer may in any case require such statement to be made in writing and signed by the party or his agent.

20. (2) The container of an embrocation, liniment, lotion, liquid antiseptic or other liquid medicine for external application, which is made up ready for the treatment of human ailments, shall, if the medicine contains a substance specified in Schedule D, be labelled with the words "Poison. For external use only".

(3) The container of a medicine made up ready for the treatment of animals shall, if the medicine contains a substance specified in Schedule D, be labelled with the words "Poison. For animal treatment only".

57. Manner of labelling.—The words with which a container of a medicine is required to be labelled under rule 56 shall—

(a) if the medicine contains a substance specified in Schedule D, either be in red lettering or be set against a red background, and

(b) in all cases shall either be on a separate label or be surrounded by a line within which there shall be no other words except words with which the container is required to be labelled under these rules.

58. Labelling with the name and address of seller.—The container of any substance specified in Schedule D or preparation containing such substance shall be labelled with the name and address of the seller and the address of the premises on which it was sold:

Provided that when the substance or preparation is sold in a container and outer covering, it shall be sufficient if the name and address of the seller appears either on the container or on the outer covering:

Provided further that when the substance or preparation is supplied from a warehouse or depot in the course of wholesale dealing it shall be sufficient if the container is labelled with the seller's principal place of business.

59. Labelling with the name of substance.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this rule, the container of any substance specified in Schedule D or preparation containing such substance shll be labelled with the name of such substance.

(2) For the purposes of this rule, the name of a substance shall be the term under which it is included in Schedule D:

P." or "B. P. C.", as the case may be.

60. Labelling with statement of quantity.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this rule, the label of the container of any preparation containing not less than 3 per cent. by volumes of alcohol or a substance specified in Schedule D shall include a statement of the quantity of alcohol or of the said substance contained in the preparation as hereafter provided.

(2) If the preparation contains alcohol, the quantity of alcohol shall be stated in terms of the average percentage by volume of absolute alcohol in the finished product.

(3) If the preparation contains a substance specified in Schedule D, the quantity shall be stated, in the case of a liquid, in terms of grains or minims per fluid ounce, and in the case of a solid, in terms of grains or minims per avoirdupois ounce:

Provided that the quantity may be stated in terms of the metric system;

Provided also that when two or more pills, wafers, tablets, powders, capsules or the like are packed in the same container, the quantity shall be stated in terms of the quantity present in each pill, wafer, tablet, powder, capsule or other unit.

(5) In the case of a preparation included in the British Pharmacopœia or the British Pharmaceutical Codex or any dilution or admixture of such a preparation, or a surgical dressing for which a standard is prescribed in the British Pharmaceutical Codex the container of which is labelled with the name used to describe the article in the British Pharmacopœia or the British Pharmaceutical Codex with the addition of the letters "B.P." or "B.P.C.", as the case may be, it shall not be necessary to state on the label the proportion of the substance specified in Schedule D contained in the preparation.

61. Non-Sterile Surgical Ligature and Suture.—Every container of, and wrapper enclosing surgical ligature or suture other than a ligature or suture offered or intended to be offered for sale as sterile shall bear a label on which are printed or written in a conspicuous manner in indelible red ink the words "Non-sterile surgical ligature (suture)—not to be used for operations upon the human body unless efficiently sterilised and tested for sterility by the processes prescribed by Rules under the Drugs Act, 1940".

62. Additional provisions for patent or proprietary medicines.—(1) There shall be printed or written in indelible ink on the outer label of every package containing a registered patent or proprietary medicine the letters "CDL" followed by the registration number of the medicine allotted by the Central Drugs Laboratory; and no other reference to the certificate of registration or to the fact of registration shall be made on any label on the container or any covering in which the container is packed or on any other written matter or advertisement enclosed therein.

65. Diseases which a drug may not purport to cure.—No drug may purport or claim to cure any disease or ailment specified in Schedule I, or to procure, or assist to procure the miscarriage of women.

PART VII.—SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO BIOLOGICAL AND OTHER SPECIAL PRODUCTS.

66. Name of substance.—If any substance specified in Schedule C is advertised or sold as a proprietary medicine or is contained in a medicine so advertised or sold, the name stated in Schedule E as being the accepted scientific name or name descriptive of the true nature and origin (hereinafter referred to as the "proper name") of the substance shall appear on the label in the manner prescribed in this Part.

67. Containers.—(1) No substance specified in Schedule C shall be sold or offered for sale unless it has been sealed in a previously sterilized glass container in such manner as will in the opinion of the licensing authority suffice to preclude the access of bacteria:

Provided that in the case of surgical ligature or suture the container may be of some substance other than glass.

(2) When any such substance is issued in liquid form in containers which are sealed in such a manner that portions of the contents can be withdrawn for use on different occasions, the liquid shall contain a sufficient proportion of some antiseptic to prevent the growth of any organism which may be accidentally introduced in the process of removing a portion of the contents of the container.

(3) The container shall comply with such further requirements, if any, as are specified in Schedule E in that behalf.

(4) The licensing authority may in the case of any particular preparation of any such substance dispense with any of the requirements of this Rule or of Schedule E, and may make such additional requirements, as having regard to the nature of the preparation, they may deem necessary.

68. Labelling.—(1) Every phial, ampoule or other container of a substance specified in Schedule C shall bear a label on which is printed or written in indelible ink the following particulars and such further particulars, if any, as are specified in Schedule E:—

(a) the proper name of the substance in letters not less conspicuous than those in which the proprietary name, if any, is printed or written, and following immediately after or under such proprietary name;

(b) the number of every licence under which the substance or any of its constituents is manufactured or imported, preceded in the case of import licences by the words "Import Licence";

(c) a distinctive batch number, that is to say, the number by reference to which the prescribed tests, and details of manufacture of the particular batch from which the substance in the container is taken are permanently recorded and available for inspection;

(d) where a test for potency in units is required by these Rules, a statement of the potency in units defined in terms of relation to the standard preparation specified in Schedule E:

Provided that this clause shall not apply in the case of vaccine lymph or surgical ligature or suture.

(2) The particulars prescribed in clauses (a), (b) and (c) of the preceding sub-rule shall be printed or written in indelible ink either on the label borne by a container of vaccine lymph or on a label or wrapper affixed to any package in which the container is issued for sale. The said particulars shall be indelibly marked on the sealed container of surgical ligature or suture or printed or written in indelible ink on a label enclosed therein.

(3) The following particulars and such further particulars, if any, as are specified in Schedule E shall be printed or written in indelible ink either on the label borne by the container of any substance specified in Schedule C or on a label or wrapper affixed to any package in which any such container is issued for sale:—

(a) the name and address of the manufacturer of the final product;

(b) the date on which the manufacture of the particular batch from which the substance in the container is taken was completed, as defined in Schedule E or, if there is no definition in Schedule E, as hereafter defined in this Rule, and in the case of vaccines prepared from concentrates, the date of completion of the final products and the bottling for issue;

(c) where a test for maximum toxicity is required by these Rules a statement that the substance has passed such test;

(d) where a test for potency or maximum toxicity is required, the date up to which the substance, if kept under suitable conditions, may be expected to retain a potency not less than that stated on the label of the container, or not to acquire a toxicity greater than that permitted by the test, as the case may be;

(e) where an antiseptic substance has been added, the nature and the percentage proportion introduced;

(f) the precautions necessary for preserving the properties of the contents to the date indicated in sub-paragraph (d) of this sub-rule.

(4) For the purposes of clause (b) of the last preceding sub-rule the date on which the manufacture of a batch is completed shall be—

(a) in cases where a test for potency or toxicity is required by these Rules or, not being so required, is accepted by the licensing authority as sufficient for the purpose of fixing the date of completion of manufacture, the date on which the test was completed, or the date on which the substance was removed from cold storage after having there been kept at a temperature not exceeding 5°C. continuously for a period not exceeding two years from the time when the last test was completed;

(b) in cases where no such test is required or accepted (i) if the substance is a serum obtained from living animals, the earliest date on which any material contributing to the batch was removed from the animal, (ii) if the substance was obtained by the growth of organisms on artificial media, the earliest date on which growth was terminated in any of the material contributing to the batch, and (iii) if the substance is a brain suspension used in the preparation of carbolised antirabic vaccine, the earliest date on which any brain material contributing to the batch was removed from the passage animal:

Provided that, in cases where no such test is required or accepted, if a batch of the substance (including all materials contributing to this batch) has for a period of not more than three years been kept in cold storage at a temperature not exceeding 5°C. continuously from the earliest practicable date after that on which the material was removed from the animal or on which growth was terminated in the material, as the case may be, the date of removal from cold storage shall be treated as the date on which the manufacture of the batch is completed.

69. Prohibition of sale of substance after prescribed date.—No person shall sell, or exhibit for sale any substance specified in Schedule C after the date recorded on the container, label or wrapper as the date up to which the substance may be expected to retain a potency not less than, or not to acquire a toxicity greater than, that required or permitted by the prescribed test, as the case may be:

Provided that a person may at the request of a registered medical practitioner sell after the date aforesaid any such substance (except one that is required to be tested for maximum toxicity) which loses its potency, if he has previously drawn the practitioner's attention to the dates recorded on the container, label or wrapper, and the practitioner is satisfied that the sale is required by the urgency of the case.

70. Standards.—Every substance specified in Schedules C and C(1) intended for sale shall conform with the standards of strength, quality and purity specified in these Rules and in Schedule E, and the tests for determining such conformity shall be applied to samples taken from the final product after every manufacturing process has been completed.

71. Tests for strength and quality.—The tests, if any, required for determining the strength and quality of each of the substances specified in Schedules C and C(1) shall be those set out in Schedule E.

72. Tests for sterility.—The test for sterility in the case of surgical ligature or suture shall be that prescribed in Part VIII of Schedule E.

73. The following tests for the presence of living aerobic or anaerobic bacteria shall be made by the manufacturer or by some institution approved by the licensing authority for the purpose of carrying out tests on his behalf in the case of—

(a) sera and solutions of serum proteins intended for injection;

(b) the bacterial vaccines to which Part I(A) of Schedule E applies;

(c) carbolised antirabic vaccine;

(d) toxins, antigens and mixtures of toxins or antigens with serum which are intended to be used in medical practice for immunizing treatment or for diagnosis by inoculation of the patient;

(e) solutions and suspensions of insulin;

(f) dry preparations of insulin intended for therapeutic use;

(g) preparations of the posterior lobe of the pituitary body intended for use by injection, except preparations which, after being sealed in the containers, have been sterilised by heat in a manner satisfactory to the licensing authority; and

(h) any other preparations in a form to be administered parenterally except preparations which, after being sealed in containers, have been sterilised by heat in a manner satisfactory to the licensing authority:

Provided that—(i) in the case of dry preparations of insulin the tests shall be applied with such modifications as the licensing authority considers appropriate; and (ii) if a manufacturer satisfies the licensing authority that he has already in use tests for the presence of living aerobic or anaerobic bacteria in any of the abovenamed substances, and that these tests, as applied by him, will detect the presence of such bacteria in the substance as ready for issue with a certainty at least equal to that afforded by the application of the tests prescribed by this Part, the licensing authority may approve the use of such tests in the place of the prescribed tests, but in such a case the authority may at any time withdraw such approval and require the manufacturer to carry out the prescribed tests.

74. Application of tests for sterility.—The tests shall be applied—

(a) to samples taken from each batch of the substance before the operation of filling and sealing the containers in which it is to be issued has commenced; and

(b) to the contents of sample containers when ready for issue.

75. Amount of samples.—The samples required to be taken under the last preceding rule shall be taken in the following proportions:—

(a) in the case of samples taken from the batch, the quantity taken shall be not less than 0·1 per cent. of the total volume of the batch if the volume is not more than 10 litres, and not less than 10 c.c. if the volume is 10 litres or more, but shall in no case be less than 1 c.c.:

Provided that if, at the time when the test is made, the batch is contained in a number of bulk containers, samples in the foregoing proportions shall be taken from each of such bulk containers and be separately tested;

(b) in the case of the contents of sample containers the number of containers taken for test shall be not less than 1 per cent. of the total number filled from the batch if this number is not more than 1,000, and not less than 10 containers if the total number is more than 1,000.

76. Method of preparing and using media.—(1) The tests shall be made on fluid media, the quantity of medium contained in each tube or other vessel used in the test being such as to secure that any phenolic antiseptic present in the sample is diluted to less than 0·01 per cent.

When an antiseptic other than a phenolic antiseptic is used the dilution to be employed shall be that approved by the licensing authority.

(2) In the case of a test for aerobic organisms the medium shall consist either of a meat extract with the addition of 1 per cent. of peptone, or of such an equivalent as can be prepared by the tryptic digestion of muscle or any other medium approved by the licensing authority. After the final sterilisation the hydrogen-ion concentration of the medium shall be between the limits represented by pH=7·2 and pH=7·8.

(3) In the case of a test for anaerobic organisms the medium shall consist of a nutrient broth similar to that used in testing for aerobic organisms, with the addition of heat coagulated muscle of an amount sufficient to occupy a depth of not less than 1 centimetre at the bottom of the tube. After the final sterilisation the hydrogen-ion concentration of the medium shall be between the limits represented by pH=7·2 and pH=7·8. Before the test inoculation the medium shall be heated to 100°C. for a period sufficient to free it completely from dissolved oxygen, and then be cooled to 37°C. or lower.

(4) The licensing authority may, at the request of any licensee, authorise the use, for the test prescribed under either sub-rule (2) or (3) of this rule, of any other specified medium or method of using a specified medium, on being satisfied that its use affords equal certainty in the detection of the presence of living aerobic or anaerobic organisms, as the case may be.

77. Method of testing.—(1) In the case of samples taken from the batch each sample shall be inoculated into tubes or other vessels containing the media, one-half of the total volume of the sample being used for the aerobic and one-half for the anaerobic test.

(2) In the case of the contents of sample containers the contents of each container shall be subjected to the test for aerobic and the test for anaerobic organisms. When the volume in the container is 2 c.c. or more, 1 c.c. shall be used for each test. When the volume in the container is less than 2 c.c., the contents shall be divided into two approximately equal parts, one part being used for the aerobic and the other for the anaerobic test.

(3) The inoculated tubes shall be incubated at 37°C. for five days and be examined after incubation, permanent records being kept for the examination of each tube.

78. (1) If at this examination no growth of micro-organisms is found in any tube, the sample may be treated as having passed the test.

(2) If at the examination a growth of micro-organisms is visible, further samples may be taken and the tests may be repeated on the further samples so taken; but no container the contents of which form part of the batch shall be issued until such further samples have passed the test. The process of taking samples from the batch for a test may, if necessary, be repeated twice:

Provided that if the same organism is visible in more than one test, the batch shall be treated as not sterile and the material contained in the batch shall not be issued or used as part of a further batch unless and until it has been re-sterilised and has passed the tests.

79. Notwithstanding anything contained in the last preceding rule, in any case where—

(a) a substance is required in an emergency by a registered medical practitioner, but the licensee has no filled containers in stock; or

(b) a substance which in the opinion of the licensing authority is so unstable in solution that the delay occasioned by the completion of the sterility test on filled containers would render its issue in active form impossible, the licensee may issue the substance from a batch which has already passed the tests for sterility and freedom from abnormal toxicity, without completing the sterility test on the filled containers, provided that he complies with the following conditions:—

(i) the licensee shall before the issue take samples in the required proportions from the containers into which the batch is filled, and after the required inoculation and incubation shall examine the tubes every day for five days;

(ii) if at any examination any growth is visible in any of the tubes, he shall immediately notify the licensing authority;

(iii) he shall keep available for inspection a record of all issues made under this rule containing such particulars of the circumstances in which the issue is made as the licensing authority may require.

80. Tests for freedom from abnormal toxicity.—The following tests for freedom from abnormal toxicity shall, in the case of each batch of serum, be made by the licensee or by some institution approved by the licensing authority for the purpose of carrying on the tests on his behalf:—

(a) a dose of 0·5 c.c. of the serum shall be injected subcutaneously into a normal mouse and the serum may be treated as having passed the test for freedom from an excess of phenolic antiseptic if the injection does not produce death or serious symptoms within seven days; and

(b) a dose of not less than 5 c.c. of the serum shall be injected subcutaneously or intraperitoneally into a normal guineapig and the serum shall be treated as having passed the test for freedom from other abnormal toxic constituents if the injection does not produce death or serious symptoms within seven days.

81 Substances specified in Schedule C(1).—The following provisions shall apply in the case of a substance specified in Schedule C(1):—

(a) The container shall comply with the requirements, if any, specified in Schedule E.

(b) There shall be printed or written in indelible ink on the label—(i) the proper name of the substance; (ii) the number of the licence under which the substance is manufactured or imported, preceded in the case of import licences by the words "Import Licence"; (iii) a batch number, that is to say, the number by reference to which the prescribed tests and details of manufacture of the particular batch from which the substance in the container is taken are permanently recorded and available for inspection; (iv) when a test for potency in units is required by these Rules, a statement of the potency in units defined in terms of relation to the standard preparation specified in Schedule E.

(c) The substance shall conform with the standards of strength, quality and purity specified in Schedule E and the tests for determining the strength, quality and purity of the substance shall be those specified in Schedule E.

(d) The tests for determining the strength, quality and purity of a substance specified in Schedule E shall be applied to samples taken from the final product after each manufacturing process has been completed.

(e) The substance should be stored in a cool place and away from light.

PART VIII.—EXEMPTIONS.

82. The drugs specified in Schedule J shall be exempted from the provisions of Chapter IV of the Act and the rules made thereunder to the extent and subject to the conditions specified in that Schedule.

PART IX.—STANDARDS.

83. (1) The United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary of the United States shall be deemed to be a prescribed pharmacopoeia for the purpose of the schedule to the Act.

(2) For drugs for which no standards of identity, purity and strength are specified in the latest edition of the British Pharmacopoeia but are specified in the British Pharmaceutical Codex the standards shall be those given in the British Pharmaceutical Codex.

(3) For drugs for which no standards of identity, purity and strength are specified in the latest edition of the British Pharmacopoeia or in the British Pharmaceutical Codex but are specified in the earlier editions of the British Pharmacopoeia the standards of identity, purity and strength for these drugs shall be those occurring in the latest edition of the British Pharmacopoeia in which they are given.

SCHEDULE E.

[See rule 37 and Part VII.]

PART I.—VACCINES.

(A) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE PRODUCTION OF BACTERIAL VACCINES.

1. Definition.—(1) This Part of this Schedule applies to bacterial vaccines made from any micro-organism pathogenic to man or other animal and to vaccines made from other micro-organisms which have any antigenic value.

(2) For the purposes of this Part of this Schedule a bacterial vaccine means a sterile suspension of a killed culture of the micro-organism from which the vaccine derives its name or a sterile extract of derivative of a micro-organism which has been prepared from a genuine culture of the micro-organism.

2. Staff of Establishment.—The establishment where vaccines are prepared must be under the complete direction and control of a competent expert in bacteriology, who must be assisted by a staff adequate for carrying out the tests required during the preparation of the vaccines and in connection with the finished products.

3. Proper Name.—The proper name of any vaccine shall be the name of the micro-organism from which it is made, followed by the word "vaccine" unless this Schedule otherwise provides or, if there is no special provision in this Schedule, some other name is approved by the licensing authority: Provided that in the case of the undermentioned preparations the proper name of the vaccine may be as follows:—

Anti-cholera vaccine;
Anti-typhoid vaccine;
Anti-typhoid-paratyphoid vaccine (T.A.B.).
Anti-typhoid-paratyphoid vaccine (A.B. & C.);
Anti-typhoid-paratyphoid (A. & B.) and cholera vaccine;
Antiplague vaccine,
Antidysentery vaccine;
Whooping cough vaccine.

4. Records.—Cultures used in the preparation of vaccines must, before being manipulated into a vaccine, be thoroughly tested for identity by the generally accepted tests applicable to the particular micro-organism. The permanent records which the licensee is required to keep shall include a record of the origin, properties and characteristics of the cultures.

5. Combined Vaccines.—Vaccines may be issued either singly or combined in any proportion in the same container. In the case of combinations of vaccine a name for the combined vaccine may be submitted by the licensee to the licensing authority, and, if approved, may be used as the proper name of the vaccine.

6. Labelling.—(1) The label on the container shall indicate the composition of the vaccine by reference either:—

(a) to the number of micro-organisms per c.c.; or
(b) to the weight of dried substance of micro-organisms per c.c.; or
(c) to the number of micro-organisms or weight of dried substance of micro-organisms used in preparing 1 c.c. of the finished product.

In the case of a combined vaccine the reference to the number of micro-organisms per c.c. or to the weight of dried substance of micro-organism shall distinguish between the several kinds of contributing micro-organisms.

(2) If the vaccine as issued for sale is combined with any substance other than a simple diluent, the exact nature and strength of such substance must be stated on the label.

7. Tests.—In the case of any vaccine prepared from a micro-organism which does not grow readily in ordinary culture media each batch of the vaccine shall, in addition to being submitted to the general tests for sterility prescribed in the Rules under the Act, be tested either in a similar manner on media which are specially favourable to the growth of the particular micro-organism from which the vaccine was prepared or by injection into an animal of a species known to be susceptible to infection by the particular organism, and no material from any batch shall be issued unless the batch has passed one of these tests.

(B) PROVISION APPLICABLE TO THE PRODUCTION OF VACCINE LYMPH (VACCINIA VACCINE).

1. Definition and Proper Name.—Vaccine Lymph is a preparation of the substance obtained from the vesicles produced on the skin of healthy animals by inoculation of vaccinia virus. Its proper name is "Vaccine Lymph".

2. Staff of Establishment.—The establishment in which vaccine lymph is prepared must be under the complete direction and control of a competent expert, who must be assisted by a staff adequate for carrying out the operations and tests required during the preparation of the vaccine lymph and in connection with the finished product.

3. Condition and Housing of Animals.—(1) The animals used in the production of vaccine lymph must be housed in hygienic conditions in premises satisfactory for this purpose.

(2) Only healthy animals may be used in the production of vaccine lymph Each animal intended to be used as a source of vaccine lymph must, before being passed for the production of vaccine lymph, be subjected to a period of observation in quarantine for at least seven days. During the period of quarantine the animal must remain free from any sign of disease and must be thoroughly cleaned and groomed.

4. Precautions to be observed in preparation.—(1) A special room, with impervious walls and floor, which can be washed and, when necessary, chemically disinfected, must be provided for the inoculation of the animals and the collection of the vaccinal material.

(2) The inoculation shall be made on such parts of the animal as are not liable to be soiled by the passage of faeces. The surface used for inoculation shall be shaved and so cleaned as to procure the nearest possible approach to asepsis. Prior to the collection of vaccinal material the inoculated area of the skin shall be cleaned in a similar fashion.

(3) (a) Immediately before the vaccinal material is collected, the animal shall be killed. Subsequently a thorough post-mortem examination of the carcass shall be made by a qualified expert. A complete record of each such examination shall be kept, and shall be open to inspection by or on behalf of the licensing authority at any time. If the examination reveals any condition which indicates or suggests that the animal was suffering from any communicable disease (other than vaccinia) the lymph obtained from that animal shall not be issued; or

(b) When post-mortem examination is not carried out each animal shall be kept under observation for a period of at least forty-eight hours after collection of lymph. If during this period the examination reveals any conditions which indicate or suggest that the animal is suffering from any infection other than vaccinia the lymph obtained from that animal shall not be issued.

(4) All instruments and appliances used in the production of vaccine lymph shall be previously subjected to an effective process of sterilisation.

(5) Laboratories in which vaccinal material, after removal from the animal, is being manufactured into lymph must be housed in a building separated from stables or animal houses by a reasonable distance. Such laboratories must have impervious walls and floors and must be capable of being readily disinfected when necessary.

(6) All processes concerned with the manufacture of vaccine lymph must be carried out with thorough aseptic precautions.

(7) All vaccinal material must be subjected, after collection, to such treatment with glycerol or other partial disinfectants as will bring the content of bacteria and other extraneous micro-organisms of the lymph within the limit prescribed in paragraph 7 of this part of this Scheme.

(8) When the procedures necessary to bring the content of bacteria and other extraneous micro-organisms within the prescribed limit have been completed the vaccine lymph shall be kept continuously in cold storage, at a temperature below 0°C., until it is withdrawn to be filled into containers for issue after which process the filled containers shall immediately be returned to cold storage and kept continuously at a temperature below 0°C., until required for issue: Provided that it shall be permissible to remove vaccine lymph from one such cold store to another, if adequate precautions are taken during such removal to guard against deterioration.

5. Containers.—Vaccine lymph for issue shall be introduced either—

(a) into previously sterilised capillary glass tubes by a method excluding access of bacteria. The tubes shall then be hermetically sealed at each end. Each tube shall contain a quantity of vaccine lymph suitable for the effective vaccination of one human subject, or

(b) into tubes or containers of large dimensions which have been sterilised before the introduction of the lymph and sealed so as to preclude the access of bacteria.

6. Labelling.—(1) The label on the container or a label or wrapper affixed to the package to which the container is issued for sale shall bear a statement that the potency of the vaccine lymph cannot be assured for more than seven days from the date of completion of manufacture, unless the lymph is kept continuously at a temperature below 10°C. the potency can be assured for at least six months.

(2) For the purpose of rule 68 (3) (b) the date on which the manufacture of the batch is completed shall be the date on which the vaccine lymph removed for issue since cold storage after having been kept continuously at a temperature below 10°C. since the date of filling into containers for issue.

7. Tests for Purity.—(1) The vaccinal material shall be exposed to the action of glycerol or other partial disinfectant under suitable conditions of temperature until tests made by means of plate cultures have shown that the total number of living bacteria or other extraneous micro-organisms has been reduced to not more than 20 in 1 milligram, or 20,000 in 1 c.c. of the vaccine lymph. The results of these tests shall be recorded and the records kept for inspection. The determination of the content of the living micro-organisms in the vaccine lymph shall be made in a manner approved by the licensing authority and the enumeration of colonies shall be made after incubation for two days at approximately 37°C., and then for at least three days at approximately 20°C.

(2) If B. anthracis is found to be present the batch of lymph shall be rejected forthwith, and if B. coli or any other pathogen is found which may prove harmful if introduced into the body by the process of vaccination the lymph must be kept in cold storage till an examination of at least 10 milligrams of 0·01 c.c. of the lymph fails to reveal its presence.

(3) When the prescribed reduction in the number of living micro-organisms has been effected, the batch of vaccine lymph may be issued if—

(a) tests carried out in manner approved by the licensing authority on a sample of not less than 0·1 per cent. of the batch have failed to reveal the presence of Cl. tetani; and

(b) tests carried out after the process of purification has been completed on a sample of not less than 10 milligrams or 0·01 c.c. have failed to reveal the presence of beta haemolytic streptococci.

8. Tests for potency.—(1) Each batch of vaccine lymph, after the process of purification has been completed, shall be tested for potency so as to ensure its activity at the time of issue. These tests shall be applied not more than three months before the batch of lymph is finally issued.

(2) For the purpose of a test for potency a dilution shall be prepared by mixing 1 volume of the lymph with 1,000 volumes of physiological saline solution, or other suitable diluent. The dilution shall be used for the test without filtration.

(3) This dilution of the vaccine lymph shall be tested by application to the suitably prepared skin of a rabbit and the batch of vaccine lymph from which the dilution was prepared shall not be issued unless the lesions characteristic of vaccinia are produced in a susceptible animal. For the purpose of comparison a similar dilution of a lymph of known potency shall be applied simultaneously to the skin of the same animal: Provided that the licensing authority may approve any other form of comparative test for potency which may be submitted to the licensing authority for approval.

(C) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE PRODUCTION OF VACCINES CONTAINING LIVING ORGANISMS, VIRUSES, OR OTHER POTENTIALLY INFECTIVE AGENTS, OTHER THAN VACCINE LYMPH (VACCINIA).

1. Every substance other than Vaccine Lymph (Vaccinia) containing, or alleged to contain bacteria, or virus or other potentially infective agent in the living condition shall be tested in such manner as the licensing authority shall approve in each particular case for the purpose of determining—

(a) that the substance contains in living condition the bacteria, virus, or other potentially infective agent, which it is alleged to contain;

(b) that its administration is free from danger;

(c) that it is free from living organisms other than those which it is alleged to contain.

2. The proper name of such a substance shall be that which the licensing authority, in each particular case, shall approve in writing.

4. Condition and Housing of Animals.—(1) The animals used in the production of carbolised antirabic vaccine must be adequately and healthily housed.

(2) Only healthy animals may be used in the production of carbolised antirabic vaccine. Each animal intended to be used as the source of carbolised antirabic vaccine must, before being passed for the production of carbolised antirabic vaccine, be subjected to a period of observation in quarantine for at least five days. During the period of quarantine the animal must remain free from any sign of disease.

5. Precautions to be observed in preparation.—(1) A special room, with impervious walls and floor, which can be washed and, when necessary, chemically disinfected, must be provided for the inoculation of animals and the removal of brains used in the maintenance of the Fixed Virus Strain and the manufacture of carbolised antirabic vaccine.

(2) The inoculation of animals and the removal of their brains must be carried out with full aseptic precautions.

(3) Tests for bacterial sterility of brains of animals used for the maintenance of the Fixed Virus Strain for the preparation of carbolised antirabic vaccine must be carried out at the time of their removal and any brain material found to show bacterial contamination mush not be employed in the manufacture of the vaccine. The sterility tests to be employed shall be those laid down in Rules 73 to 78.

(a) Tests for sterility.—Tetanus Toxoid shall be submitted to the tests for sterility as required under Part VII of the Rules, and in addition, it shall be tested on media and under conditions approved by the licensing authority as being specially favourable for the growth of Clostridium Tetani.

(b) Tests to determine that the specific toxicity of the toxin used in its preparation has been completely removed.—5 c.c. of the tetanus toxoid shall be injected into each of not less than five normal guinea-pigs, each weighing from 250 to 350 grammes. If this injection produces any symptom of tetanus in any of the animals injected within 21 days of injection the tetanus toxoid shall be held not to have passed the test.

(c) Tests for potency as an immunising antigen.—The tests shall be carried out on not less than nine normal guinea-pigs, each weighing from 250 to 350 grammes. Each guinea-pig shall receive by injection the tetanus toxoid, either in a dose of 5 c.c. on one occasion, or in two doses each of 0·1 c.c. on each of two occasions separated by an interval of not more than four weeks. It shall be permissible to include in the test guinea-pigs injected by either of these two methods provided that the total number so included is not less than nine. At a date not later than six weeks after the single injection hereinbefore prescribed, or if they have received the two injections, hereinbefore prescribed, at a date not later than two weeks after the second injection, the tetanus antitoxin present in the serum of each guinea-pig shall be determined.

If the serum of each of two-thirds or more of the guinea-pigs tested contains 0·1 international unit, or more of tetanus antitoxin per c.c. of serum, or alternatively, if the serum of each of one-third or more of the guinea-pigs tested contains 1 international unit or more of tetanus antitoxin per c.c. of serum, the tetanus toxoid shall be accepted as sufficiently potent.

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO TETANUS TOXOID PREPARED FOR ISSUE IN FORMS OTHER THAN SIMPLE SOLUTION.

4. Proper Name.—The proper name of any form of tetanus toxoid other than that of simple solution shall be "Tetanus Toxoid" together with a phrase indicating the nature of the additional process to which it has been subjected, e.g., "Tetanus Toxoid, Alum Precipitated," or "Alum precipitated Tetanus Toxoid".

5. Labelling.—The label on the container shall indicate the dose or doses, appropriate for administration at one injection to a human subject.

6. Tests.—(a) When tetanus toxoid is prepared for administration in forms other than simple solution, such as Alum precipitated Tetanus Toxoid, the tetanus toxoid from which such forms are prepared shall be submitted to, and shall pass, the tests for sterility and for absence of specific toxicity hereinbefore prescribed.

(b) The product, after precipitation or other process used for its final preparation, shall again be subjected to the sterility tests hereinbefore prescribed, with such modifications as the nature of the product may require to make the test effective.

(c) The product, after the precipitation or other process used for its final preparation, shall be subjected to the tests for absence of specific toxicity and for potency as an immunising antigen hereinbefore prescribed, with the modification that the dose injected in the test for absence of specific toxicity and in the test for potency as an immunising antigen when a single dose is administered, shall be 1 c.c.

PART II.—TOXINS AND ANTIGENS.

(A) PROVISION APPLICABLE TO THE REAGENTS USED IN THE SCHICK TEST FOR THE DIAGNOSIS OF SUSCEPTIBILITY TO DIPHTHERIA.

1. Definitions and proper names.—(1) The reagents used in the Schick test are two, Schick Toxin and Schick Control. Their proper names respectively are "Schick Test Toxin" and "Schick Control".

(2) Schick Test Toxin is a sterile filtrate from a culture on nutrient broth of the specific organism of Diphtheria (Corynebacterium diphtheriae). It may be issued either—

(a) undiluted, accompanied by a container in the same box or carton holding such a volume of sterile saline solution as, when mixed with the accompanying quantity of the undiluted toxin, will make a dilution of the strength proper for use in the test. The proper name of the substance in this form is "Schick Test Toxin (undiluted)"; or

(b) already diluted with an appropriate saline solution to the strength proper for use in the test. The proper name of the substance in this form is "Schick Test Toxin (diluted for use)".

(3) Schick Control is prepared from the same batch of Schick Toxin as that with which it is used for sale, by destroying the specific toxicity. This is effected by heating the toxin in such a manner as to keep it at a temperature not lower than 70°C. for a time not shorter than five minutes. Schick Control is issued in a dilution not weaker than that in which the corresponding toxin is used in the test.

(4) The dilution of schick toxin proper for the test is that in which 0·2 c.c. contains one test dose.

2. Tests for potency.—The test dose of Schick Toxin for the purpose of the foregoing provision shall be measured by the following tests:—

(a) by intracutaneous injection into normal guinea-pigs in mixtures with different proportions of diphtheria antitoxin. One test dose mixed with 1/750th or more of a unit of antitoxin must cause no local reaction, but mixed with 1/1250th or less of a unit of antitoxin must cause a definite local reaction of the type known as the "positive Schick reaction";

(b) by intracutaneous injection into normal guinea-pigs, without admixture with antitoxin 1/50th of one test dose must not cause, and 1/25th of one test dose must cause a definite local reaction of the type known as the "positive Schick reaction".

3. Application of Rule 79.—Rule 79 shall apply to Schick Toxin (diluted for use) as being a substance so unstable in solution that the delay occasioned by the completion of the sterility test on filled containers prescribed by the Rules would render its issue in active form impossible.

(B) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO DIPHTHERIA PROPHYLACTIC.

1. Definition and Proper Name.—Diphtheria Prophylactic is diphtheria toxin (the sterile filtrate from a culture on nutrient broth of Corynebacterium diphtheriae), or material derived therefrom the specific toxicity of which has been reduced to a low value either by the action of chemical substances, or by the addition of diphtheria antitoxin, or by both methods, but, in any case, in such a manner that it retains efficient properties as an immunising antigen. Its proper name is "Diphtheria Prophylactic".

2. Labelling.—The label on the container shall bear a statement of the dose (hereinafter referred to as the "human dose") appropriate for administration at one injection to a human subject.

3. Tests.—Diphtheria Prophylactic shall be submitted to the following tests:—

(a) Tests to determine that the specific toxicity of the toxin used in its preparation has been so reduced that it does not exceed the prescribed maximum.—Five human doses of the Diphtheria Prophylactic under test shall be injected into each of five normal guinea-pigs each weighing 250 to 350 grammes. This injection must not cause the death of any of the guinea-pigs within six days following the injection. If all the guinea-pigs injected survive for six days but any of them die within thirty days following the injection from the specific toxaemia, one human dose of the Diphtheria Prophylactic under test shall be injected into each of five normal guinea-pigs, each weighing 250 to 350 grammes. This injection must not cause the death of any of the guinea-pigs within 30 days following the injection.

If a batch of Diphtheria Prophylactic is shown by either of these tests to have a greater toxicity than the maximum hereby indicated, it shall not be issued unless and until the toxicity has been so reduced by further treatment that it does not exceed that maximum.

(b) Tests for potency as an immunizing antigen.—A quantity of Diphtheria Prophylactic not exceeding five human doses shall be injected on one occasion into each of at least ten normal guinea-pigs; or, alternatively, a quantity of Diphtheria Prophylactic not exceeding one-tenth of a human dose shall be injected into each of at least ten normal guinea-pigs on each of two occasions, separated by an interval of not more than four weeks. The guinea-pigs shall be tested for immunity to diphtheria toxin, if they have received the single injection hereinbefore prescribed, at a date not later than six weeks after injection, and if they have received the two injections hereinbefore prescribed at a date not later than three weeks after the second injection, by intracutaneous injection into each guinea-pig of one test dose of Schick Toxin. If more than two out of ten guinea-pigs thus tested or more than one quarter of the number tested if this is greater than ten exhibit a positive Schick reaction, the batch of Diphtheria Prophylactic shall be treated as insufficiently potent, and shall not be issued:

Provided that in the case of the forms of Diphtheria Prophylactic known as Toxin-Antitoxin Floccules and Toxoid-Antitoxin Floccules the Prophylactic may be similarly injected into nine or more normal guinea-pigs which may be tested for immunity to Diphtheria Toxin by two separate but simultaneous intracutaneous injections into each of at least nine of these guinea-pigs of one test dose and two test doses, respectively, of Schick Toxin. If two-thirds or more of the guinea-pigs tested do not exhibit a positive reaction to one test dose of Schick Toxin; or alternatively, if one-third or more of the guinea-pigs tested do not exhibit a positive reaction to two test doses of Schick Toxin, the batch shall be accepted as sufficiently potent.

(C) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO TUBERCULINS AND OTHER PREPARATIONS FROM THE BACILUS TUBERCULOSIS AND ITS CULTURES.

(NOTE.—The name "tuberculin" has been frequently applied to any extract, suspension or other preparation of the Bacillus tuberculosis or of media on which that bacillus has been cultivated. In the following Part of this Schedule the name is used in a more restricted sense and applies only to tuberculins as therein defined.)

TUBERCULINS.

1. Definition and proper name.—(1) Tuberculins are preparations of fluid media on which the Bacillus tuberculosis has been grown in artificial culture and which have been freed by filtration from the bacilli.

(2) For the purposes of this Schedule tuberculins are classified in two groups (a) Old Tuberculin, and (b) Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate.

2. Old Tuberculin.—(1) Old Tuberculin is the concentrated filtrate from the growth of Bacillus tuberculosis on a suitable nutrient broth. For its preparation the bacillus must be grown at approximately 37°C. for a period, usually not less than 6 weeks, sufficient to allow the surface of the fluid medium to become covered by a thick growth of the bacillus. At the end of this period the fluid medium, from which the bacilli may or may not have been previously separated by filtration, must be concentrated by evaporation to one-tenth of its original volume, and then be filtered. If the required test for potency shows that the preparation so concentrated is more potent than the standard preparation, the potency may be reduced to the required degree by appropirate dilution. If the test shows that the potency is less than that of the standard preparation, it shall not be increased by further evaporation. The proper name of the preparation is "Old Tuberculin," with or without a suffix such as T., or P.T. The suffix T., if used, will indicate that the bacillus used in preparing the Tuberculin was obtained from a case of human infection, and the suffix P. T. that the bacillus used was obtained from a case of bovine infection.

(2) The standard preparation of Old Tuberculin, is a quantity of Old Tuberculin kept in the National Institute for Medical Research, Hampstead.

(3) Each batch of Old Tuberculin shall be tested for potency by observation of its specific toxicity, by a method approved by the licensing authority, in such a way that the potency of the preparation under test is measured by comparison with that of the standard preparation. Old Tuberculin shall not be issued if its activity differs from that of the standard preparation, to such an extent that the difference is revealed by the test.

(4) Each batch of Old Tuberculin shall be tested for the absence of non-specific toxicity by the subcutaneous injection of 0·5 c.c. into a normal guinea-pig, and shall be treated as having passed the test if such injection does not cause death or serious symptoms.

3. Tuberculin Boullion filtrate.—(1) Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate is the unconcentrated Filtrate from the growth of Bacillus tuberculosis on a suitable nutrient broth. For its preparation the bacillus must be grown at approximately 37°C. for a period usually not less than 6 weeks, sufficient to allow the surface of the fluid medium to become covered by a thick growth of the bacillus. At the end of this period the medium is freed from bacilli by filtration through a bacteria-proof filter. The proper name of the preparation is "Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate," with or without a suffix such as T. O. A. or P. T. O. The suffix T. A. O., if used, will indicate that the bacillus used in preparing the Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate was obtained from a case of human infection; and the suffix P. T. O. will indicate that the bacillus used was obtained from a case of bovine infection.

(2) Each batch of Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate shall be tested for the absence of non-specific toxicity by the subcutaneous injection of 5 c.c. into a normal guinea-pig, and shall be treated as having passed the test if such injection does not cause death or serious symptoms.

4. Test for sterility.—All tuberculins shall be tested for sterility in accordance with Rules 74 to 78. Tuberculin Boullion Filtrate shall be tested in addition for absence of living tubercle bacilli by a method satisfactory to the licensing authority.

TUBERCLE VACCINES.

5. Definition and proper name.—Tubercle vaccines are preparations made from the bacillary substance obtained by growth of the Bacillus tuberculosis on artificial media, and consisting of suspensions of the killed organisms or of products therefrom, in water or other suitable suspending fluids. The proper name is "Tubercle Vaccine," and any other descriptive title or symbol indicating the origin of the bacilli or the nature of the process of preparation must be used in addition to, and not in substitution for, the name "Tubercle Vaccine".

6. Application of provisions as to bacterial vaccines.—The provisions of Part I(A) of this Schedule (which relates to the production of bacterial vaccines) shall apply to the production of tubercle vaccines.

(D) PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO STAPHYLOCOCCUS TOXOID

1. Definition and proper name.—Staphylococcus Toxoid is staphylococcus toxin (the sterile filtrate from a culture on a suitable medium of a toxigenic strain of staphylococcus), the specific toxicity of which has been reduced to a low value by the action of chemical substances in such a manner that it retains efficient properties as an immunising antigen. Its proper name is "Staphylococcus Toxoid".

Staphylococcus Toxoid may be issued either—

(a) undiluted; or

(b) already diluted with an appropriate saline solution to the strength suitable for injection.

2. Labelling.—The label on the container shall indicate the dose, or doses, appropriate for administration at one injection to a human subject.

3. Tests.—Staphylococcus Toxoid shall be submitted to the following tests; it shall not be issued unless it passes all of the tests.

(a) Tests to determine that the specific toxicity of the toxin used in its preparation has been sufficiently reduced.—(i) One volume of the undiluted staphylococcus toxoid shall be added to four volumes of physiological saline solution; equal volumes of this dilution of staphylococcus toxoid and of a 2 per cent. suspension of washed red blood corpuscles of the rabbit shall be mixed; when the mixture is heated to 37°C. for one hour there must be no significant haemolysis.

(ii) 0·2 c.c. of the undiluted staphylococcus toxoid shall be injected intracutaneously into a normal rabbit or guinea-pig; this injection may cause a slight local reaction but must not produce necrosis.

(iii) Two rabbits shall be injected intravenously with doses of staphylococcus toxoid calculated at the rate of 2·5 c.c. per kilogram body weight; this injection must not cause the death of either rabbit within three days following the injection.

(b) Test of non-specific toxicity.—Two normal mice shall be injected intraperitoneally with 0·5 c.c. of the undiluted toxoid; this injection must not cause the death of either animal within seven days following the injection.

(c) Tests for potency as an immunising antigen.—1 c.c. of the undiluted staphylococcus toxoid shall be injected into each of not less than nine normal guinea-pigs on each of two occasions separated by an interval of not more than four weeks; at a date not later than two weeks after the second injection the staphylococcus antitoxin present in the serum of each guinea-pig shall be determined.

If the serum of each of two-thirds or more of the guinea-pigs tested contains 0·5 unit or more of staphylococcus antitoxin per c.c. of serum, or alternatively, if the serum of each of one-third or or more of the guinea-pigs tested contains 1 unit or more of staphylococcus antitoxin per c.c. of serum, the toxoid shall be accepted as sufficiently potent.

PART III.—PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO THE PRODUCTION OF ALL SERA FROM LIVING ANIMALS

1. Conditions and housing of animals.—(1) The animals used in the production of sera must be adequately and healthily housed.

(2) Only healthy animals may be used in the preparation of sera, and in particular the presence of glanders in horses or other equidae and of tuberculosis in cattle must be excluded by testing with mallein and tuberculin respectively.

(3) Every new animal intended to be used as a source of serum must be subjected to a period of observation in quarantine for at least 7 days, before being admitted to the stables in which the serum-yielding animals are housed.

(4) Every animal used as a source of serum must either be actively immunised against tetaneous toxin or must be passively immunized against that toxin by injections of tetanus antitoxin in such doses as to ensure the constant presence of that antitoxin in the blood during the whole period of the use of the animal as a source of serum.

2. Staff of Establishment.—The establishment must be under the complete direction and control of a competent expert in bacteriology and serology, assisted by a staff adequate for carrying out the tests required during the preparation of the sera and in connection with the finished products.

3. Precautions to be observed in preparation.—(1) Laboratories where sera are exposed to the air in the course of the process of preparation must be separated by a sufficient distance from stables and animal houses to avoid the risk of aerial contamination with bacteria from animal excrete, and must be rendered fly-proof to prevent such contamination by insects. Such laboratories must have impervious walls and floors and must be capable of being readily disinfected when necessary.

(2) A special room with impervious walls and floor which can be washed and, when necessary, chemically disinfected must be provided for the collection of blood from the living animal.

(3) An efficient system of manure removal must be used, which will prevent its accumulation in the vicinity of any room where blood or serum is collected or handled.

(4) An adequate number of efficient sterilizers must be provided for the sterilization of all glass-ware or other apparatus with which the serum may come into contact in the course of its preparation.

(5) All processes to which the serum is subjected during and after its collection from the animal, must be designed to preserve its sterility, but in the case of artificially concentrated sera, it shall suffice that the process of concentration is conducted with scrupulous cleanliness and in such a manner as to avoid unnecessary or dangerous contamination.

(6) The laboratories in which the testing of the sera for potency, sterility and freedom from abnormal toxicity are carried out must be adequate for the purpose. An adequate supply of animals for use in such tests and suitable housing for such animals must be provided.

(7) Provision must be made for complying with any special conditions which may be laid down in this Schedule relating to the production and issue of the particular serum, in respect of which the licence is granted.

4. Unhealthy or infected animals.—If an animal used in the production of sera is found to be suffering from an infection, except one produced by living organisms against which it is being immunized, or shows signs of serious or persistent ill-health not reasonably attributable to the process of immunization, the licensee shall immediately report the matter to the licensing authority and shall, if the authority orders an inspection and the inspector so directs, cause such animal to be killed and a post-mortem examination of it to be made, and take steps to prevent any serum obtained from the animal being sold or offered for sale until permission is given by the authority. If the result of the post-mortem examination is such as to bring under suspicion the health of any of the other animals used for the production of sera, the licensing authority may prohibit the use of those animals for the production of sera or may take such other steps as may be necessary to prevent the issue of sera which may be dangerous to human health:

Provided that in a case of emergency the person in charge of the establishment may order the destruction of an animal used in the production of sera and suspected of infection, and shall in that case give notice forthwith to the licensing authority and shall permit an inspector to be present at the post-mortem examination.

C. LIQUOR ADRENALINE HYDROCHLORIDI B. P. FOR PARENTERAL ADMINISTRATION.

Proper name.—Liquor Adrenalinae Hydrochloridi is a sterile solution of Adrenaline in Normal saline and Hydrochloric acid, containing in each 100 c.c. not less than 0·90 Gm. and not more than 0·110 Gm. $C_9 H_{13} O_3 N$.

Standard Preparation.—The standard preparation is a quantity of Adrenaline, B.P. which satisfies all the tests for purity specified in the British Pharmacopœia. The optical rotation of a 4 per cent. w/v solution of Standard Adrenaline in N/1 Hydrochloric acid, should be between ·50 to ·53 degrees.

Test for potency.—A suitable solution of adrenaline hydrochloride injected intravenously into a cat or a dog by the methods described below produces a rise in the systolic blood-pressure of the animal corresponding to that produced by an equal amount of a solution of Adrenaline B. P.

(i) Preparation of the solution for the test.—The following method is suggested:—Weigh accurately about 0·050 Gm. of standard Adrenaline, dissolve it in 5 c.c. of N/10 Hydrochloric acid and dilute this to 50 c.c. by the addition of distilled water, thus making a 1 in 1,000 solution. This solution must be recently prepared, otherwise it deteriorates. It will keep for a short time if preserved in hard glass containers in a refrigerator, but it must be discarded if any signs of deterioration, such as discolouration are observed.

Suitable dilutions of the standard Adrenaline solutions may then be made in physiological saline for comparison with an equivalent dilution of Liq. Adrenaline Hydrochloridi to be tested.

(ii) Methods of Comparison of Potency.—Either of the following methods may be adopted:—

(A) For the purpose of the assay a full grown cat, preferably male, should be used. The cat should be anaesthetised with a suitable anaesthetic, the spinal chord should be divided and the brain destroyed, the respiration being maintained artificially. The blood-pressure is estimated by inserting a cannula into the carotid artery and connecting the same with a mercury manometer which records on a moving drum. The injections are made into the exposed femoral vein. The blood-pressure must be low and must not vary before experiments are started.

Determine the amount of standard solution necessary to cause a sub-maximal rise in blood-pressure by injecting intravenously varying doses of the solution at regular intervals and after a satisfactory dose has been ascertained, the uniformity of reaction should be tested by the injection of two or more doses of equal size. If these injections produce approximately equal increases in blood-pressure, alternate injections of the solution to be tested and of the standard are made carrying the amount of the unknown until two or more successive injections raised the blood-pressure to the same height, indicating that the amount of active agent is the same in doses used. From the results thus obtained, the strength of the unknown solution may be determined and adjusted.

(B) For the purpose of the assay, a dog of medium size should be used. The animal should be anaesthetised with a suitable anaesthetic and maintained under artificial respiration. It is prepared for blood-pressure estimations by inserting a cannula into the carotid artery and connecting the same with a mercury manometer which records on a moving drum. The injections are made into the exposed femoral vein. Before the test is made, in case any muscular movement such as twitching is present, the dog should receive by intravenous injection a sufficient dose of curare, but if the animal is deeply anaesthetised, this is not necessary. The dog should also receive a sufficient dose of atropine sulphate (from 0·001 Gm. to 0·002 Gm.), to paralyse the vagi, this paralysis being proved by electrical stimulation. Injections must be made at regular intervals of approximately 5 minutes.

Determine the amount of standard solution necessary to cause a rise in blood-pressure from 30 to 60 mm. of mercury by injecting intravenously varying doses of the solution and after a satisfactory dose has been ascertained, the uniformity of re-action should be tested by the injection of two or more doses of equal size. If these injections produce approximately equal increases in blood-pressure, alternate injections of the solution to be tested and of the standard are made varying the amount of the unknown until two or more successive injections raised the blood-pressure to the same height indicating that the amount of active agent is the same in the doses used. From the results thus obtained, the strength of the unknown solution may be determined and adjusted.

Containers.—Ampoules shall be made of white resistance glass passing the B. P. tests for limits of alkalinity of glass. Containers other than ampoules shall be made of amber coloured resistance glass passing the B. P. tests for limits of alkinity of glass.

Storage.—Liquor Adrenalinae Hydrochloridi shall be kept in small, well-filled, well-closed, bottles or ampoules, protected from light. If the solution becomes brown in colour or contains a precipitate, it must be rejected. A suitable preservative may be added to the solution.

Labelling.—The label of the container shall contain the following in addition to any other particulars prescribed in these rules:—

1. Strength of the solution.
2. The word "sterile" or "suitable for parenteral injection".
3. Dose (0·12 to 0·5 mil. by injection).

Provided that a person who is aggrieved by the suspension or cancellation of his licence may within three months of the date of the order appeal to the District Judge of the district in which the right of appeal accrues or if there is no District Judge of that district such Judicial Officer as the Central Government may appoint in this behalf having jurisdiction, whose decision shall be final.

Weather and Crop Report for the week ending 2nd January 1946	21—22

SUPPLEMENT—Official Papers.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 3rd January 1946.

First Forecast of Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal for 1945-46.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under Linseed in Bengal has represented some 4·1 per cent. and that of Rape and Mustard some 12·5 per cent of the total area under these crops in India.)

Explanatory.—Three forecasts are issued for the spring oilseed crops. The present one deals with the area sown and the condition of the crops.

Oilseeds are chiefly grown in Dacca, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In other two divisions the cultivation is less extensive.

Area sown.—The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is estimated as 740,200 acres this year as against 1,035,700 acres and 748,200 acres (Revised) returned in the corresponding and the final forecasts respectively of last year.

Character of the season.—Sowing generally commenced at the normal time and under favourable weather conditions in most of the districts. It was a bit delayed in a few districts due to heavy rainfall in October. The present outlook of the crops is reported to be fair.

N. M. KHAN,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH AND LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Public Health.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. P.H. 2R/1/46.—11th January 1946.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the districts of 24-Parganas, Howrah and Midnapore are threatened with an outbreak of cholera:

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (Act III of 1897), the Governor of Bengal is pleased to prescribe until further notice, the following temporary regulations for the prevention and control of cholera, and for the medical inspection, isolation, observation and surveillance of persons suffering from, or suspected of being infected with, cholera in the said districts:—

Notices.

3. If in any case the District Health Officer considers that the issue of a notice under these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the spread of cholera he may forthwith take such step as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice, the District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation.

5. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Board except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by that person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the District Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the persons in possession of the property, the Board may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The Board shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

(1) When the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or other possible source of water-supply is contaminated or is likely to be contaminated, he may at once take such steps as he deems necessary to close such well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, or may require the owner or occupier of land upon which such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply is situated, to take steps to close the same to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer or the Sanitary Inspector or the rural medical officer as the case may be, within such time as may be specified in the order.

(2) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer may require such owner or occupier to keep closed during such a period as shall be specified in the order any well, tank, pool or other sources of water-supply closed under paragraph (1) of this regulation.

Explanation.—In this regulation, "to close" includes the placing of chaukidars to prevent access to the well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply.

21. When the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer is of opinion that the water in any well, tank, pool or source of water-supply is contaminated he may disinfect it or order its owner or occupier to

24. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer may prohibit persons from easing themselves, or throwing, depositing or discharging any rubbish, sewage or offensive matter, into any well, tank, pool or other source of water-supply, which is used by the public, or within such a distance from such well, tank, pool or source of water-supply as he may fix.

Explanation.—In this regulation "nuisance" means anything which in the opinion of the District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer is likely to spread or to cause the outbreak of cholera.

26. Whenever the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer is satisfied that the condition of any privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is such as to cause risk of spreading cholera to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood he may order the occupier of the land in which such privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is situated to disinfect, or to allow an officer of the Board to disinfect, the same with such disinfectants in such quantities and at such time as the said officer or inspector shall think fit.

29. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer may require the owner or occupier of any land to clear and remove, within the period specified in the order, any vegetation upon such land the existence of which in the opinion of the said officer or inspector conduces to the committing of nuisances upon such land.

30. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer may issue general orders that by a specified date certain sanitary precautions of a simple nature, such as lime-washing of houses, clearing of latrines or the removal of filth or rubbish shall be carried out to his satisfaction.

38. (1) The District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector or rural medical officer may require any person who appears to be acquainted with facts in connection with any case of cholera or suspected cholera to attend before him at a time to be stated in the order and at any place not more than one mile from the place where such person resides or is staying when the order is issued, and such person shall appear as so required.

(2) When the person summoned to appear under paragraph (1) is a female who, by the custom of the country, does not appear in public suitable precaution shall be taken to respect the said custom.

39. (1) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector or a rural medical officer may examine orally any person who appears to be acquainted with the facts and circumstances of a case of cholera or suspected cholera.

(3) Such person shall be bound to answer all questions relating to such case put to him or her by such officer, other than questions the answers to which would have a tendency to expose him or her to any criminal charge.

3. If any measure which the District Health Officer has, by a notice issued under regulation 20, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice the District Health Officer shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Provided that where the conditions which led the District Health Officer to pass such an order, are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the Board may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

8. Presidents of Union Boards in union board areas and thana officers in non-union board areas shall supply to the District Health Officer such periodical returns of cases of small-pox as he may from time to time call upon them to furnish.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Legislature (Corrupt Practices and Election Inquiries) Act, 1946.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 541L.—11th January, 1946.—The following Statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Legislature (Corrupt Practices and Election Inquiries) Act, 1946, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The electoral law, as it stands, imposes no penalty or disqualification upon candidates who themselves or through the agency of other persons seek to obtain the services of Government officers in furtherance of their private interests in election campaigns. This defect in the law is likely to lead to a gross and dangerous form of corruption in public life.

Sections 3 and 4 provide that a candidate or his agent, or any other person acting with the connivance of either, found guilty of obtaining or procuring or abetting or attempting to obtain or procure the services of any servant of the Crown for such a purpose as aforesaid, will be disqualified for membership of, and for voting at an election to, the Bengal Legislative Assembly or the Bengal Legislative Council for six years. It excludes from its operation third parties acting without the connivance of a candidate or his agent.

A Bill containing the same provisions as those embodied in this Act was introduced during the last session of the Bengal Legislative Council, but no further progress was made with it owing to the intervention of the Proclamation issued by the Governor under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935. The issue of the Proclamation has not affected the necessity for or the urgency of the measure.

The present Act was published, in the form of a Bill, in the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th December, 1945, for the purpose of eliciting an expression of public opinion thereon; and as no objections or suggestions have been received in respect of it, the Governor has given his assent to the measure.

By order of the Governor,
E. B. H. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Bengal Act II of 1946

THE BENGAL EXCISE (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1946.

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 17th January, 1946.]

An Act further to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act V of 1909.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Excise (Amendment) Act, 1946.

Amendment of section 8 of Bengal Act V of 1909.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 8 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909, after the words "Commissioner of a Division" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"or by any officer exercising the powers of an appellate authority under any rule made under section 85, clause (c)".

NOTIFICATION.

No. 56L.—11th January, 1946.—The following Statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Excise (Amendment) Act, 1946, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

In view of the heavy increase in the number of appeals filed before the Excise Commissioner, it is necessary to give immediate relief to the Excise Commissioner in the matter of disposing of these appeals so that his important administrative duties are not interfered with. For this purpose it is proposed to authorize the Deputy Commissioner of Excise (Distilleries and Warehouses), who is attached to the office of the Excise Commissioner, to dispose of such of the appeals as the Excise Commissioner may, in his discretion, transfer to him under a rule made in that behalf under clause (c) of sub-section (2) of section 85 of the Bengal Excise Act, 1909. But this would create an anomaly for while an order passed in appeal by the Excise Commissioner may be revised under sub-section (3) of section 8 of the said Act, an order of the Deputy Commissioner of Excise (Distilleries and Warehouses) passed in appeal not being an order of the Excise Commissioner cannot be so revised. It is therefore considered expedient to effect the requisite amendment in sub-section (3) of section 8 of the Act under the legislative powers assumed to himself by the Governor under the Proclamation issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

NOTIFICATION

No. 1351L.—30th January, 1946.—The following Statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Finance (Repealing) Act, 1946, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

It has all along been recognised that the Bengal Finance Act, 1939, which imposes a uniform levy of Rs. 30 per annum on all assessees irrespective of the magnitude of their income, offends some of the most important canons of taxation. These defects were tolerated at the time the Act was passed because it was hoped that in due course it would be possible to graduate the tax and thereby to remove the outstanding defect and also to increase the productivity of the tax. An amendment of the Government of India Act, 1935, has since restricted the scope of this taxation to such an extent that it is no longer worth while to attempt any graduation. The collection of the tax has proved very costly. The yield is small and not at all commensurate with the difficulties involved in the administration of the Act.

2. Government have accordingly decided to abolish the tax with effect from the 1st April, 1946. Only such power is being retained as is necessary to enforce undischarged liabilities accrued prior to that date.

By order of the Governor,
E. B. H. BAKER,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Bengal Act IV of 1946

THE BENGAL FINANCE (SALES TAX) AMENDMENT ACT, 1946.

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, of the 1st February, 1946.]

An Act further to amend the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act VI of 1941.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

Statement.

The Bengal Budget for the financial year 1946-47 foreshadows a large deficit on revenue account and it is necessary that every reasonable expedient should be adopted to reduce this deficit.

The Governor has, therefore, with a view to increasing the yield from the tax on the sale of goods in Bengal imposed under the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Act, 1941, enacted the Bengal Finance (Sales Tax) Amendment Act, 1946, which increases the rate of the tax from three quarters of an anna to one anna in the rupee while at the same time enlarging the schedule of tax-free goods by exempting boots, shoes and sandals costing not more than a prescribed amount in order to afford further relief to the small wage earner.
